INCLUSION JEWELLERY CARE INSTRUCTIONS

To ensure your precious keepsake stays in great condition and continues to look its best, follow these care instructions. You'll also receive a copy of these instructions along with your finished jewellery piece for future reference. These care instructions apply to all 925 Sterling Silver, Gold filled Jewellery and 9K Gold. Plated Gold and Rose Gold Jewellery which wears away much easier if proper care isn't adhered- this is not suitable for everyday wear.

1. Avoid applying hand sanitiser to the inclusion part of your ring as it may cause clouding and/or yellowing.
2. Always put on your jewellery last when getting dressed, after applying perfume, makeup, and hair products. These products can damage your jewellery over time, causing it to dull or tarnish. Be cautious with necklaces to avoid contact with perfume.
3. Remove any rings before engaging in manual labour, housework, gardening, or exercise, to avoid accidental scratches/damage or loss.
4. Keep your jewellery away from ALL cleaning products and harsh chemicals especially bleach and highly reactive solutions, as they can and will cause yellowing very quickly. Ensure your rings are taken off or covered with gloves before any cleaning. Solvents can cause the resin to break down so nail polish remover etc.
5. Protect your jewellery from extreme temperatures changes and humidity to prevent the inclusion stone from shrinking.

INCLUSION JEWELLERY CARE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Remember to remove necklaces before going to sleep to prevent strain on the chain, which could cause it to break.
2. Avoid submerging your jewellery in water so remove your jewellery before washing your hands, washing dishes, taking a bath or shower, and be cautious around hot tubs or swimming pools where other chemicals may be present. Resin is water-resistant but not waterproof.
3. I recommend purchasing a silver or gold cleaning cloth to keep the metal part of your jewellery clean and free from tarnish. My go to is the Town Talk silver or gold polishing cloths. Please take care not to use these polishing cloths on the resin part of your piece. Gently rub the cloth on the metal parts, to bring out the shine.
4. Considering the nature of my jewellery, it's important to be mindful of young children grabbing and pulling. For added security, consider using a necklace/bracelet safety chain to prevent chain breakage and protect your setting.
5. Frequent exposure to cigarette smoke can cause yellowing.
6. Resin is sensitive to UV rays and can yellow over time. Keep resin away from direct sunlight and prolonged exposure to sun beds, nail lamps, and UV lights.
7. While minor scratches are normal signs of everyday wear, following these care instructions will ensure your jewellery lasts for years and years.
8. All jewellery is "top-coated" with a protective layer of clear resin over the breastmilk area. This not only gives it a shiny appearance but also provides protection to the breastmilk part below. If damage occurs to the top layer, it can be removed and reapplied to keep your precious inclusions safe.

Tarnish

1. Most of my pieces are made with sterling silver, which naturally tarnishes over time, causing the metal part of it to dull and eventually darken. Tarnishing happens due to exposure to moisture, air, and oils, but it's easy to manage with a little know-how!
2. To slow down tarnishing and keep your jewellery looking its best, I recommend the following:
3. Store your jewellery in a dry, dark, cool place—ideally in a sealed bag or box, and if it's airtight, even better.
4. Remove jewellery before showering, swimming, or sleeping. Avoid storing it in the bathroom, as the constant humidity speeds up tarnishing.
5. Take off jewellery before applying lotions, perfume, hairspray, etc.
6. Clean the metal parts after wearing (especially earrings) to remove oils and dirt. Gently wash with a little warm, soapy water and a soft toothbrush (a child's toothbrush works perfectly), then dry thoroughly before storing. This gentle cleaning won't harm the resin or stones but will help remove most, if not all, discoloration from your jewellery.

INCLUSION JEWELLERY CARE INSTRUCTIONS

Please remember that I cannot be held responsible for how you choose to wear your jewellery, but I'm here to offer advice on getting the best out of it. If you follow these care instructions, your jewellery will remain in excellent condition for years to come.

In case of damage, feel free to get in touch, and I can arrange a repair for a nominal cost. To proceed with the best fix, please inform me about the cause of the damage or any chemicals it may have been exposed to.

If you feel like your milkstone has dulled please contact me for the buff and top coat application, this is always an option for you.

If you ever need help or advice, don't hesitate to contact me through email (tinytreasuresbabycastings@gmail.com) or any of my social media pages.

While some customers may not follow the care instructions and have no issues, it's always best to be cautious with something as precious as your jewellery.

INCLUSION JEWELLERY CARE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Smoking: Direct contact with smoke, especially for rings, can cause yellowing. Thus, it's advisable to avoid smoking with the hand your jewellery is on.
2. Chemicals: Harsh chemicals and cleaning products can be detrimental to your jewellery. Refrain from exposing your jewellery to substances such as hand sanitiser, perfume, hair spray, cleaning products, nail polish remover, chlorine, etc. Hand sanitiser, in particular, can completely ruin your jewellery, giving it a yellow or cloudy appearance. If you frequently wear a ring from us, take care to avoid applying hand sanitiser directly to the inclusion stone area.
3. Yellowing: It's a common misconception that breastmilk jewellery will yellow over time. In reality, with proper care, breastmilk jewellery can last for many years without yellowing. Yellowing is usually a result of aftercare rather than the brand or type of resin used, or the preservation process of the breastmilk.
4. If you requested your leftover preserved breastmilk back, we can't guarantee its condition as we don't know if the optimum storage conditions were met.
5. Dullness & Scratches: If your jewellery appears dull or has been scratched or scraped, we can add a new top coat layer, which typically restores its shine. If that doesn't work, we can remove and start again if needed using any archive milk leftover.
6. For charm beads, replacing the entire piece may be simpler as removing the core can damage the bead.

INCLUSION JEWELLERY CARE INSTRUCTIONS

1. Scrapes: Handle your jewellery with care to avoid bumping or scratching the inclusion area, as this could damage the piece. It's best to remove your jewellery when using tools or engaging in manual labour.
2. Water: Remember that resin is water-resistant but not waterproof. So, it's essential to remove your jewellery before activities like showers, washing dishes, swimming, or being in hot tubs (chlorine can also damage the inclusion stone). However, if you happen to forget and wear your jewellery during these activities, make sure to dry it thoroughly afterward.
3. Heat: Keep your jewellery away from high temperature fluctuations. Extreme heat can cause elements inside the jewellery to separate or lead to yellowing.
4. Sunlight: Store your jewellery away from direct sunlight when not in use. Prolonged exposure to direct sunlight can cause the resin to discolour, yellow, or soften. Avoid leaving your jewellery on windowsills, car dashboards, or any place with direct sunlight.
5. Regular, everyday wear with some exposure to sunlight is perfectly fine.
